

At the end of the fire

I don't know why. Oh, I've never ever thought that I'll come back.
But that's alright. Now we're standing here.
Oh, we find some good old memories. Almost lost under the wreckage of this time.
We needed to play. And think of yesterday.

*Oh I still remember how we caught that flame.
Oh I still remember how we got the blame.*

At the end of the fire. This lonely desire.
I wish we could have made it undone.
At the end of the fire. This lonely desire.
To find out. Why we needed to run. And take another way.

I don't know why. Why I ever could have been so careless.
I could cry. Hope you feel the same way too.
Oh, this house was made of friendship and was built on unconditional faith.
But we needed to run. You chose another way.

*Oh I still remember how we caught that flame.
Oh I still remember how we got the blame.*

At the end of the fire. This lonely desire.
I wish we could have made it undone.
At the end of the fire. This lonely desire.
To find out. We decided to run.

I know who's guilty. We both played with fire.
We dared the light. It was our desire
I still remember. How we caught the flame.

At the end of the fire. This lonely desire.
To find out. Why we needed to run.
At the end of the fire. We decided to run.
