

Narrow minded man

I remember days. You said you'll be my friend.
We talked about girls. About the weather. Bout our plans.
I remember days. When we were doing rag.
While we're walking down the streets. We busted doggy bags.

Today I'm gonna understand. You're a narrow minded man.
I shall not judge. But you're round the bend.

I remember days. When I see you again.
Your lordliness felt over me like a pouring rain.
Time goes by but you're stuck the past.
Like a swollen grain. In an hourglass.

Yesterday on back and call. Your words like a bible on my wall.
I shall not judge. But you're round the bend.
Today I'm gonna understand. You're a narrow minded man.
I shall not judge. But you're round the bend.

*It took a while to see. You played nasty tricks on me.
Now I realise, I realise you're the devil in disguise.*

Yesterday on back and call. Your words like a bible on my wall.
I shall not judge. But you're round the bend.
Today I'm gonna understand. You're a narrow minded man.
I shall not judge. But you're round the bend.